In The Mix Presents

In The Mix Podcast Episode 2: Christian McBride

12PM

Program

In the Mix is a student-driven work group where participants agree to respectfully share their thoughts and feelings surrounding social justice issues that are important to them.

This process-oriented group is figuring out what arts as activism means to each student, through ongoing creative collaboration, and honest, open dialogue about tough topics. In the Mix is what they want it to be.

As part of their theme, Arts as Activism, In the Mix students interviewed jazz bassist Christian McBride. Today you will hear a draft of the podcast, the students will talk about their experience, have a Q&A with the audience and will end with wrap-up reflections from the students.
